MUSLIM GROOMING GANGS

No End in Sight

Since the first report and some convictions back in 2003. Not much has changed. Still no protection for our underage girls.
Even now in 2020 there are still gangs of Muslims in court for raping and abusing white girls as young as 11.

These gangs have operated for decades and most of these predators think they are untouchable. The police and the local authorities who were and are still responsible for the protection of these young white girls still only deal with the aftermath and still have nothing in place to stop it happening again and again.

The local authorities and police in early reports about these types of cases always seemed to blame the victim as "they chose this lifestyle". A child does not choose to be plied with drugs and alcohol and then to be raped by men over and over again. These same authorities and police forces also did not want offend these minority groups by appearing to be racist but these are racist crimes against young white girls.
Just another thing that proves multi-culturalism will never work.

SOCIAL MEDIA BE SAFE

Social media can be one of our best tools to get our information out to people. It can be done quickly and cover a vast area and many people. However, as we have different ideals and way of living. Our information is shut down and removed as we are seen as promoters of hate. Yet we are only wanting to save and protect our beautiful race and heritage.

The extreme left however, is freely allowed to push their ideals and poison all over any social media platform without any disruption. They can even use our own information we share to use against us. Which they have done on many occasions. Three years ago, the extreme left went trolling through Facebook looking for information on people who are our way. They managed to gather a list of 168 individuals who were claimed to be members of our music scene. They gathered photo's, names and any other information that was public but the Left being what they are, if they couldn't get the information they wanted they made the rest up. So, they went live with the list in January 2017 with lots of false information. But sadly, they had enough information that our own had left public. That enough of our own lost jobs, lost work (through their own businesses), and lost other connections as we all know they are extreme bullies and constantly harass innocent people to get what they want.

Even three years later that list is still out there and there are still some of the Left that regularly check through to see if they can find anything to use against us. Thankfully after the first list went live most have shut their information and photo's down. But in December last year they thought they had information on 12 individuals from the original list but nearly all the information they published was out and out rubbish. Sadly one of the 12 lost their job due to the harassment and another lost a major contract and even ended up closing their business down.

To be safe on social media the simple answer is don't use it as we are classed as the enemy.

But in reality, we all use it for different reasons. But always be mindful, limit the public information you share. Restrict as much as possible to your friends only. Never allow any of the different social media platforms access to your GPS on your mobile phones. As these platforms will use it to hit you with advertising as well as the establishment being able to track you. Don't comment on public page's post or share public post by group's or pages. As these will always show who has shared them. Another thing never to do, is going on to the many quiz games that are out there as you agree to them having access to your full profile information.

Drugs – A Honest Account from an Ex-user

One of THE EMBLEM Team spoke with an ex drug user. All participants details are confidential, but they were happy to share their experience.

This person was thirty years old when they first tried cannabis, they were totally anti-drugs before this.

They started off with occasionally smoking cannabis, but it did progress to daily use. Not using a lot at first but as they were chasing the effects they needed more or felt they needed more so the cycle began.

From the daily smoking of cannabis resin, they then started to use acid tabs, ecstasy and cocaine as recreational pastime at weekends or when out with friends.

The ex-user was asked why they started using drugs?

They started whilst they were working nights as they struggled to sleep during the day so smoked it to help relax them enough so they could sleep. Working where they worked it was "the norm" to take drugs and most of their work co-workers were using cannabis as well. Ecstasy, acid and cocaine they used at weekends as they were told they would enjoy the effects they gave.

They never thought about any of the long term or permanent side effects of using drugs and thought they had complete control of the situation and could stop when they wanted. The interviewer then asked if the using of drugs could have brought on any mental health issues? The response to this was no not as first but in hindsight it becomes apparent it was but with a slow progression.

They quickly realised that they had two lots of friends, their first group who were their close friends, that would tell the user to stop but they never stopped being around the user. The second group were their drug friends, these were the ones who regularly used drugs, and the user felt they fitted in with them as it was "the norm with them".

The drug use eventually stopped but only after being spotted by people that knew their family and the rumours starting about them using Heroin to which they never did. The family finding out was what the kick up the backside that was needed and they went cold turkey. For anyone not aware that means a sharp stop of everything. This then brought on many bad side effects such as paranoia, vivid nightmares, sleep deprivation. The worse thing that followed for them was the depression, panic attacks and low self-esteem. Their family took a long time to trust them again but slowly and positively the family have all regained their trust and all relationships have rebuilt. While dealing with the withdrawal a situation occurred and with depression having a strong hold, they attempted suicide. Had the drug use and withdrawal not happened they know the situation would have been dealt with completely different. They are grateful for that the outcome was they survived, and they are fully recovered.

Growing up they lived in an area that was rife for drug use and drugs being readily available. It was a case of in their eyes either take drugs and fit in or be the odd one out but at the end of the day it was their choice.

Feeling good for 1-3 hours depending on what drug was being took seemed great at the time, but now looking back they realise it was an induced feeling and not natural.

The Ex-user now worries that our younger generations think it's ok and their actions will not have any implications on themselves or those around them. They think they are in control but "They Are Not". With the increase of so-called natural highs and the new synthetic drugs that are more readily available.

The ex-user has been clean over twenty years and is living well, they see the dangers they put themselves in years ago. They are now very much anti-drugs again with more knowledge than the rest of us.

This a personal message from them.

"For anyone contemplating using or experimenting with drugs think about the impact on yourself and those close to you.

It really isn't worth it – BELIEVE ME!"

THE EMBLEM Team would like to say thanks for this participants time and honesty.

Tragic Figures About Grooming Gangs

Shockingly the scale of abuse is still growing as more brave victims come forward as more cases are being brought to trial. Yet it is very scary to see the number of towns and cities that have already had convictions for the abuse of our young white girls by Muslim gangs and others.

Since 2004 up to the end of 2019 there has been 51 trials with convictions covering 27 towns and cities. That's over 3 trials a year.

Yet it has taken so long for the authorities to even acknowledge that poor girls are being abused and exploited. The authorities put the blame on the victims as they chose this lifestyle. They don't want to upset the Muslim communities never a thought for the white communities and the generations of girls being destroyed. But even now they do not accept it is racial problem as some offenders may be white.

The true reality is that is that of 271 that have been convicted a staggering 88% of them were Muslim. Of the victims 97% were white girls, yet it has nothing to do with race or religion. Some victims are as young as 11 when they are first abused by these animals. A shocking figure is that the main age range of victims is 14 – 15 year olds at a staggering 57% for this age group. A truly sickening figure that during a 14-month period from August 2010 to October 2011 there were confirmed 2,409 victims.

These figures are not government figures as they don't and won't publish figures like this as they don't want the truth out there. As they still want us to believe that multiculturalism is working when clearly it isn't. But it our children who are paying the price this messed up experiment. But as always racism only happens when the white race does it.

UK ELECTION 2019 Thursday 12th December 2019

The election result and what it means to nationalists I don't think it matters who is in power they are all the same and part of a globalist plan to destroy us and bring about the new world order.

People might think that I'm one of those mad conspiracy theorists I thought much the same when I was first told about how a certain tribe had been planning this for centuries. But I had a couple of good mentors who lent me books and after reading these I started to notice what was happening and who was behind it.

Getting back to the election result only good thing that came out of it was the kick up the backsides of the arrogant & complacent Labour party in the north of England mind you at least Corbyn was anti-Zionist and his policy on re-nationalisation was something I agree with.

I've come to the conclusion that fighting elections at present is a waste of our resources you might ask why? Well do you honestly think that if any nationalist party won enough seats they would be allowed to govern. You only have to look at Greece and events there with Golden Dawn and the people arrested in 2013 when it looked like they had a chance of gaining enough seats stop the globalists plan.

The same would likely happen here even if that did not happen, whenever those elected to parliament or local government the liberals and reds would refuse to work with the nationalists. They would most likely walk out ignoring the election result we know they do this when it suits (Brexit). Even if the allowed those people to take their seat in office there would be the threat of violence from the usual suspects. We know the police can't be relied on for protection.

The way forward is for us to build an alternative culture so has to offer people a different path. When we have enough people behind us, we can then maybe fight in elections and have a chance of winning enough seats so that we outnumber the enemy.

Meanwhile we should consider joining other organisations has a means to recruiting those who could help the movement, in conclusion we must continue doing all that was discussed at the 2019 AGM and implement any new ideas that might work this is the only way we have any chance of halting the destruction of our race and culture.

BREXIT WILL IT HAPPEN

Does anyone believe the UK will actually leave the EU?

Having looked at and watched the behaviour of the establishment since 2016.

Can you believe or trust them to make a clean break from the EU? I certainly don't as all they have done is try to block us from doing so. They have completely ignored the peoples vote and when they realised the people would not let them do so. They got together behind closed doors and came up with May's deal in the hope we would be happy with said deal.

But the staunch Remainers refused to accept this because they are so arrogant that they think it's okay to carry on ignoring the people.

We've had three years completely wasted. The only good things about that period was May resigning and then the general election. This saw the Marxist Labour party almost destroyed in its northern heartlands. But is Johnson any better we will have to wait and see. I for one won't hold my breath because from my understanding of his deal is it's not that different from May's and it keeps us linked tightly to the EU.

Most people I know wanted a hard Brexit as that would not give those who wanted to stay in the EU chance of the UK re-joining sometime in the future. You may think that's farfetched but all they have to do is make sure our economy fails and they have the means of doing so. I'm sure, they will wait for 10-20 years and then say we told you it was a bad idea to leave we need to re-join.

They make decisions that are bad all the time and they know this but it's part of the hidden agenda. Now there has been a cabinet reshuffle where Johnson got rid of some ardent leavers and replaced them with Remainers. Surely if you were sincere about leaving you would not give any Remainers a job in your cabinet. All we can do is watch and wait and we must be ready to back those who see through this charade.

This may sound defeatist but sadly after thirty odd years of nationalism. I've seen just how far the establishment will go to achieve their goal of destroying us. They always have backup plans it's the nature of the beast who holds true power. If you would like to compare the two deals, there are several sites you can look at below is a link to just one of those.

We also have two more problems; they are SNP in Scotland and Sinn Féin in Northern Ireland. The SNP if they get their way will become independent and they will allow unchecked migration. You can be sure that most migrants won't stay in Scotland they will cross the border into England. Same with Sinn Féin if they gain a majority as that looks likely the same thing will happen, and the flood of migrants continues.

A final note I'm not anti-Europe I believe a united Europe would be a good thing. Sir Oswald Mosley had a plan for this which I agreed with a National Socialist Europe which could stand up to the globalists and win

We Will Have Our Country Back!

BRITAIN is in rapid decline. Decades of subversion by the political Left and stupidity or worse from the political centre, the liberals and conservative Right has totally undermined the spirit and structure of what was once GREAT BRITAIN. Successive governments have duped the British people into accepting the constant influx of foreigners, immigrants, economic migrants, asylum-seekers, foreign investors, foreign companies, foreign banks, foreign customs, foreign cultures, foreign religions, foreign attitudes. Successive governments have embroiled Britain in un-winnable overseas conflicts, wars which do not offer Britain security but leave the UK vulnerable and make Britain the puppet of American globalist foreign policy.

Successive governments have devastated Britain's traditional industries, sold off our national assets, tied our economy to the European Union and International banks. They have sold out the British people.

Large scale non-white immigration coupled with almost state sponsored multi-culturalism, rampant materialism, and mind-numbing popular entertainment has undermined traditional British values and turned the ordinary British worker in to a soulless consumer, addicted to fast food and the slop poured out by a decadent, multi-national media, hooked into international brand-named industries.

The time has come to call a halt to the betrayal and corruption of the British people by these so called democratic forces.

The time has come to force radical changes with the radical ideas of British National Socialism.
